It is an alternative mode of preparing tax returns which deviates from the conventional manual process of filling-up tax returns. Taxpayers can directly encode data, validate, edit, save, delete, view and print the tax returns. The package provides automatic computations and has the capability to validate information encoded by the taxpayers. Further, it is available to all non-eFPS taxpayers through the internet. Taxpayers with internet connections thru their own local area network (LAN) or through the wireless fidelity (wifi) may download the offline eBIRForms Package through the BIR Website <http://www.bir.gov.ph>. Those without their own internet connections may download or utilize the same package through BIR internet facility available in e-lounges located at the Revenue District Offices (RDOs).

The pdf format of the aforesaid forms is likewise readily available for download and print as prescribed instead of the manually printed copies distributed by BIR offices.
