REVENUE MEMORANDUM ORDER NO. 36-2013

TO : All Revenue Officials and Employees
SUBJECT : Strategic Recruitment and Selection Process

I. BACKGROUND

Organizations are all uniquely different but the overall mission to have the best and the brightest employee is a common goal. The government has been doing its level best to instill the virtues of integrity, transparency, accountability, and competence in the delivery of public service. In pursuance of this effort, a number of anti-corruption/good governance programs and activities have been introduced. Among these are the Integrity Development Action Plan (IDAP) which was adopted in 2004, the Anti-Red Tape Act of 2007, the Integrity Development Review (IDR) from 2003 to 2012, the Moral Renewal Program (MRP) in 2009, and the latest is the Integrity Management Program (IMP). All government agencies are mandated to adopt and implement their own program.

In 2007, improvement in the Human Resource Management (HRM) process, particularly focused on Recruitment and Selection, had been identified as one of the goals in the Anti-Corruption Plan of the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR). The enhancement in the HRM process aims to find the right person, for the right job, at the right time and developing them to help the Bureau achieve optimal revenue and success. Several initiatives were adopted by the BIR, thru its Personnel Division, to achieve said objective and the implementation of those programs ultimately resulted to the BIR's commendable performance in the IDAP and IDR.

As part of the continuing efforts of the BIR to support this program of government, as well as update the policies, guidelines and procedures of recruitment and selection that aim to implement the revised Merit Selection Plan (MSP) under Civil Service Commission (CSC) Memorandum Circular (MC) No. 03, s. 2001, the relevant sections of Republic Act (RA) No. 9165 otherwise known as the Comprehensive Dangerous Drugs Act of 2002 and CSC MC No. 13, s. 2010 relative to the guidelines for a Drug-Free Workplace in the Bureaucracy, and the pertinent provisions of RA No. 7277 governing the grant of rights and privileges of persons with disability, this RMO is hereby established for the guidance of all concerned.

II. OBJECTIVES

This Order is issued to:

1. Adopt and implement the policies, guidelines and procedures of a strategic recruitment and selection process that will ensure the hiring of the right employee for each position leading to reduced costs and an improved outcome, provide fast, quality Human Resource (HR) service to potential BIR employees, and help HR officers' source, recruit, assess, select and hire the "best fit" candidates for vacant positions.
2. Update and align the policies, guidelines and procedures to be observed in the recruitment and selection of new employees with that of the identified competencies, as provided in the above-mentioned regulations.
3. Reflect the changes in the recruitment and selection process and in the roles and responsibilities of the concerned Official/Office/Group which include the National Selection Board (NSB), the Personnel Division (PD)/Training Delivery Division (TDD)/Human Resource Management Unit (HRMU), and the Appointing Authority in adherence to relevant employment laws and more importantly to ensure implementation of the improved hiring process.

III. SCOPE

This recruitment and selection process shall cover all career positions in the first and second levels in the Bureau. It shall also include non-career service positions.

IV. DEFINITION OF TERMS

For purposes of this Order, the following terms shall mean:

Anti-Corruption¹ - designed to eradicate or prevent dishonest or fraudulent conduct, especially in a political context: an anti-corruption campaign.

Good Governance² - epitomized by predictable, open and enlightened policy making; a bureaucracy imbued with a professional ethos; an executive arm of government accountable for its actions; and a strong civil society participating in public affairs; and all behaving under the rule of law.

Integrity³ - the quality of being honest and having strong moral principles; moral uprightness.

Transparency⁴ - is a characteristic of governments, companies, organizations and individuals that are open in the clear disclosure of information, rules, plans, processes and actions.

Accountability⁵ - means ensuring that officials in public, private and voluntary sector organizations are answerable for their actions and that there is redress when duties and commitments are not met.

Competence⁶ - a cluster of related abilities, commitments, knowledge, and skills that enable a person (or an organization) to act effectively in a job or situation.

Integrity Development Action Plan (IDAP)⁷ - is the main output of the 3-day first ever Presidential Anti-Corruption Workshop (PAW) held from 15 to 17 December 2004 with the theme: Countering Corruption through Integrity Development: A Key to Economic Competitiveness. It has been adopted as the national anti-corruption framework of the executive branch under Her Excellency President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo in line with her program of countering corruption through integrity development and good governance.

Anti-Red Tape Act of 2007⁸ - an act to improve efficiency in the delivery of government service to the public by reducing bureaucratic red tape, preventing graft and corruption, and providing penalties therefor.

Integrity Development Review (IDR)⁹ - is a compendium of diagnostic tools - self-assessment scorecards for managers, feedback, survey of employees and corruption vulnerability assessment - for assessing the robustness of corruption resistance mechanisms, and for identifying the vulnerabilities of government agencies to corruption. It seeks to design and implement safeguards to prevent corruption in the public sector.

Moral Renewal Program (MRP)¹⁰ - refers to values formation and ethical behavior for government officers and employees, as well as the strengthening of people's values to achieve zero tolerance for corruption.

Integrity Management Program (IMP)¹¹ - is a preventive anti-corruption measure of the Government jointly undertaken by the Office of the President's Office of the Deputy Executive Secretary for Legal Affairs (OP-ODESLA) and the Office of the Ombudsman.

Comprehensive Dangerous Drugs Act of 2002¹² - an act instituting the Comprehensive Dangerous Drugs Act of 2002, repealing Republic Act (RA) No. 6425, otherwise known as The Dangerous Drugs Act of 1972, as amended, providing funds therefor, and for other purposes.

Qualification Standards (QS)²⁰ – is a statement of the minimum qualifications for a position which shall include education, experience, training, civil service eligibility, and physical characteristics and personality traits required in the performance of the job.

Specific Requirements – requisites not limited to the qualification standard of the position, but may include skills, competencies, potential, physical characteristics and personality traits necessary for the successful performance of the duties required of the position.

Recruitment²¹ – is the process of attracting as many qualified applicants as possible for posted vacancies and anticipated positions for validation. It is a talent search, a pursuit of the best group of applicants for an available position by comparing applicants' talents to competency models that define the traits of fully successful or exemplary performers.

Selection – reduces the list of applicants to those who are most qualified to achieve the desired outputs or results and will best fit the job.²² It is the process of searching for and then identifying an appropriate match between the individual, the job, the work group, and organization.

Discrimination²³ – is a situation where in a qualified applicant is not included in the selection line-up on account of gender, civil status, pregnancy, disability, religion, ethnicity, or political affiliation.

Pre-employment Tests - refers to the assessment tools that measure the ability/skill thru the Aptitude, Personality, Integrity Tests and the Computer Practical (Hands-On) Examination. It is used to assess relative strengths and weaknesses of job applicants.

Aptitude Test²⁴ – a test designed to predict learning capacity for a particular area or particular skills.

Personality Tests²⁵ - any tool utilized to assist in assessment of character or measuring of character traits. Personality tests might gather self-report information, wherein engaged parties reply to queries about their character or chose objects which depict themselves, or they might take the form of projective tests, that claim to gauge unconscious factors of an involved party's personality.

Integrity Tests²⁶ – are viewed by employers as one tool in the armamentarium of personnel screening techniques, which can also include other tests of personality and/or cognitive ability, background checks into criminal history and credit records, reference checks, blood or urine tests, handwriting analysis, and personal interviews. These tests, almost always paper-and-pencil instruments, contain, either in whole or in part, questions about an individual's attitudes toward theft and other deviant or illegal acts, and questions about an individual's prior involvement in such behavior. Answers to these queries lead to inferences about the test-taker's propensity to commit workplace theft and/or other counterproductive acts.

Computer Practical (Hands-On) Examination²⁷ – refers to assessment which is built around the use of a computer; the use of a computer is always intrinsic to this type of assessment. This can relate to assessment of IT practical skills or more commonly the on screen presentation of knowledge tests.

Selection Line-Up²⁸ – is a listing of qualified, competent and successful applicants for consideration to a vacancy which includes, but not limited to, the comparative information on their education, experience, training, civil service eligibility, performance rating (if applicable), relevant work accomplishments, physical characteristics, psycho-social attributes, personality traits and potential.

Strategic Recruitment²⁹ – recruiting in response to the needs of the business and building recruitment strategy around that need. It is focused purely on the key job positions in the organization. It is focused on the hiring of the job positions needed for the accelerated growth of the business. The strategic recruitment can be a separate process from the usual recruitment process for the mass job positions.

Best fit³⁰ – the right candidate for the right job.

Forced-Rank List of Applicant/s – is a list of passed applicants placed according to their over-all ranking (from highest to lowest) based on their employment examination test result and consolidated interview rating result who are for consideration to a particular position.

Reemployment – is the reappointment of a person who has been previously appointed to a position in the career service but who has been separated as a result of reduction in workforce, reorganization and or voluntary resignation.

Reinstatement – is the reappointment of a person who has been previously appointed to a career service and who has, through no delinquency or misconduct, been separated therefrom or the restoration of one who has been exonerated of the administrative charges filed against him.

Blacklisting – the act to permanently exclude the applicant/s to be formally employed in the Bureau due to any of the following reasons:

- FALSIFICATIONS/MISREPRESENTATIONS stated on the submitted documents;
- FAILING the BIR Pre-employment Examination TWICE and;
- CHEATING during the pre-employment examination

Background Checking³¹ – is the process of authenticating the information supplied to a potential employer by a job applicant in his or her resume, application, and interviews. In most application processes, lying about background and credentials will keep the employer from hiring the applicant. Background checking ensures the employer that the candidate has the background and experience he or she claims.

Drug - any substance, other than alcohol, capable of altering the user's judgment, perception, mood, or of impairing the user's physical reactions. This term includes the controlled substances defined in Schedules I through V of the Controlled Substances Act, 21 U.S.C., Section 812, and any illegal drug or drug used illegally.³²

V. POLICIES

In order to attain the aforesaid objectives, the following employment rules are hereby prescribed for the information and strict compliance by all concerned:

1. The recruitment and selection process must be driven by clear policies, accountability, and shared responsibility but most importantly by Human Resource (HR) professionals who have the capacity to deliver.
2. Recruitment and selection is critical to effective HR Management, however, it must be practiced within the context of other HR systems such as Manpower Planning, Retention Planning, Career Management, Succession Planning, Training and Development, Performance Management, etc.
3. HR officers performing recruitment functions shall focus on recruiting activities aimed at attracting the right candidates for the job. Based on the needs of current openings and forecasts for future needs, the HR officer needs to direct efforts toward the best option for recruiting the right candidates.
4. Pursuant to the pertinent provisions of RA No. 10029, psychometrician shall be authorized to do any of the following: Provided, That such shall at all times be conducted under the supervision of a licensed professional psychologist: (1) administering and scoring of objective personality tests, structured personality tests, excluding projective tests and other higher level forms of psychological tests; (2) interpreting results of the same and preparing a written report on these results; and (3) conducting preparatory intake interviews of clients for psychological invention sessions.
5. Vacant positions marked for filling-up shall be published in accordance with RA No. 7041. The published vacant positions shall be posted in at least three (3) conspicuous places in the Bureau, namely at the BIR Website, PD-National Office/HRMU-Regional Office bulletin board and CSC Bulletin in accordance with RA No. 7041 for ten (10) calendar days.
6. The BIR shall observe Sec. 25 of Republic Act (RA) No. 7277, which reads as follows:
"Equal Opportunity for Employment. — No disabled person shall be denied access to opportunities for suitable employment. A qualified disabled employee shall be subject to the same terms and conditions of employment and the same compensation, privileges, benefits, fringe benefits, incentives or allowances as a qualified able bodied person."

7. The grant of eligibility for skilled positions in the government shall be in accordance with the policies of CSC MC No. 10, s. 2013.
8. In the event that the applicant does not meet the required Qualification Standards (QS) for the position that he/she is applying for, the Personnel Division (PD)/Human Resource Management Unit (HRMU) may recommend other position/s commensurate to his/her qualifications.
9. The hiring or reinstatement of persons over the age of forty (40) but not over fifty-seven (57) years may be given due course subject to the conditions cited in Memorandum Circular No.35 dated August 24, 1987 of the Office of the President and Department of Finance letter dated September 10, 2003, provided, he has rendered satisfactory service in the government.
10. Former BIR employees seeking reemployment in the Bureau shall submit Certificate of Clearance from the Office of the Ombudsman and from the National/Regional Offices where they were previously assigned. This particular requirement shall be attached to the application forms upon submission to the PD/HRMU.
11. The CSC MC No. 03, s. 2001 also known as Merit Selection Plan requires that:
 1. Selection of employees for appointment in the government service shall be open to all qualified men and women according to the principle of merit and fitness.
There shall be equal employment opportunity for men and women at all levels of position in the agency, provided they meet the minimum requirements of the position to be filled.
 2. The Merit Promotion Plan shall cover positions in the first, second and third level and shall also include original appointments and other related personnel actions.
There shall be no discrimination in the selection of employees on account of gender, civil status, disability, religion, ethnicity, or political affiliation.
 3. When a position in the first and second level becomes vacant, applicants for employment who are competent, qualified and possess appropriate civil service eligibility shall be considered for permanent appointment."
12. Selecting the right candidate requires identifying the specific skills, knowledge and qualities you seek and desire in an employee. This can pertain to the necessary skills and knowledge for the position itself, such as a specific degree or certification, and the desired personal qualities, such as a preference to hire employees with good moral and ethical standards.
13. An improved selection process shall be observed in processing the applications for BIR employment and these are: administering standardized pre-employment examinations including integrity examination, providing licensed and accredited psychometrists and psychologists to administer new assessment tools, and furnishing of an exclusive testing room to be used by applicants.

- 8.7. Retain test and test results for at least one (1) year from the date the test is administered or from the date of any personnel action relating to the testing, whichever is later, except in case of reorganization or any other similar event.
- 8.8. Keep detailed records of every correspondence at every stage.
9. Facilitate the conduct of employment interviews on time to all applicants who passed the employment examinations with the following objectives:
- 9.1. Observe an applicant's attributes that will affect job performance, i.e. ability to communicate; ability to reason and understand; temperament, personality and character; etc.
 - 9.2. Obtain additional information on the applicant's education, work experience, job-related interests, and other information that can fill in the gaps on the resume or application form.
 - 9.3. Identify the extent of the applicant's knowledge, skills, and other competencies by inquiring about past performance and achievements.
 - 9.4. Compare an applicant's strengths and weaknesses with those of other applicants.
 - 9.5. Describe the job, what the agency expects of employees, and what employees can expect. This gives the applicant more information to determine if s/he is really interested in the position.
 - 9.6. Promote a good public image of the agency and the government.
10. Ensure that a team of two interviewers shall interview applicants separately and then compare notes afterwards. This shall be done in the following methods:
- 10.1. Initial Interview – to be conducted by the ACIR (alternate HREA) of the HRDS/Assistant Regional Director or any representative duly authorized in writing.
 - 10.2. Final Interview – to be conducted by the DCIR in the National Office and Regional Director in the Regional Office or a representative from the Group, Service and Division of the concerned Office or where the vacancy is.
11. Evaluate the Interviews conducted and ensure that these reflect the applicant's skills, abilities, and performance factors measured against those required for the position. Match the candidate to the job and complete the interview evaluation or rating form. Interviews are useful for assessing such personal characteristics as practical intelligence and interpersonal and communication skills.
12. Conduct background checking of applicant's information to appropriate offices. Applicants need to be screened with a background check to see if anything objectionable would prohibit them from working in the Bureau. Reference checking is just one of many factors to consider in making a final selection decision. While impression of a reference may be subjective, consensus of all references may be looked at as being objective.

13. Prepare forced-rank list of applicants (shortlist of passed applicants) for inclusion in the selection line-up for recruitment. The important point is to ensure that as far as possible finish up with the best possible candidates on the shortlist. It is sensible to reject those applications that do not match the key criteria closely. If feasible, keeping a set of notes is a good idea. This helps to remember or explain the grounds on which the candidate was rejected.
14. Maintain an updated database of passed applicants' profile including, among others, education, eligibility, experience, competencies, and other similar information.
